

Instruction - Elementary and SecondaryINSTRUCTIONAL MATERIALS AND RESOURCES

Instructional materials, including textbooks, library media print, nonprint and electronic resources, computer software, videotapes, films, and instructional television programs represent fundamental resources for schools for enhancing instruction, furthering the pursuit of knowledge, and providing experiences of educational significance for class groups or for individual students. It is the shared responsibility of the State and District to provide an adequate number and range of instructional materials and resources in a variety of formats that are appropriate, timely, and essential to the attainment of specified educational objectives. It is also the responsibility of the State and District to provide instructional materials that are free of bias, stereotypes, distortions, and prejudices.

I. State-Adopted Instructional Materials

Under provision of the State law, State Instructional Materials Councils are responsible for formulating policies governing the evaluation of instructional materials submitted for State adoption in curriculum areas recommended by the Commissioner of Education.

The Superintendent of Schools, or designee, shall assign responsibilities for the District's participation in the State adoption of instructional materials; determine areas of the curriculum in which State adoption of instructional materials is needed and communicate those needs to the Commissioner of Education; supervise the District Instructional Materials Councils when such councils are authorized; and establish procedures for the requisition, purchase, receipt, storage, distribution, use, conservation, maintenance of records and reports, and management practices, and property accountability concerning instructional materials. The duties and responsibilities include keeping adequate records and accounts for all financial transactions for funds collected pursuant to Section 233.46(4), Florida Statutes (F.S.). Such records and account shall be a component of the educational service delivery scope of the District's best financial management practices review under Section 230.23025, F.S.

II. Non-State Adopted Books and Other Instructional Materials

It is the responsibility of the school system to provide instructional materials to supplement State-adopted instructional materials or to provide instructional materials for those areas of instruction for which inadequate or no provision has been made by State adoption or allocation. Procedures shall be established to provide for evaluation and selection of non-State-adopted books and other materials needed to pursue the objectives of a school, Region, or districtwide program. Such procedures and guidelines shall permit the individual school, Region, or District staff to assume responsibility for the selection. Final authority for the review and selection of materials at the school level shall be vested in the administrative head, the principal; at the Region level, in the Region Superintendent; and at the District level, in the Deputy Superintendent for Education, or designee.

III. Library Media Center Collections

A wide choice of materials that support the instructional program shall be available to students and professional staff to allow for varying achievement levels, interests, and teaching/learning styles. The Associate Superintendent, Bureau of Elementary, Secondary, and Workforce Development Education, in conjunction with the Administrative Director, Division of Instructional Technology and Media Support Services, shall establish procedures for the evaluation, selection, management, and disposal of library media materials.

The library media center shall contain a comprehensive collection of materials and equipment, in a variety of media formats, to:

- A. Provide a broad background of information resources in all areas of knowledge;
- B. Support the general educational goals of the District and the objectives of specific courses, including materials that represent diverse points of view in order that young citizens may develop, under guidance, the practice of critical analysis of all media and intellectual integrity in forming judgments;
- C. Meet the personal needs and interests of students, including materials that:
 1. Nurture the development of recreational reading/listening/viewing, cultural appreciation, and aesthetic values;
 2. Represent the many religious, racial, ethnic, linguistic, and cultural groups in our society and reflect their contributions to the heritage and culture of our civilization;
